Department of Philosophy (University of Rijeka) and Croatian Society for Analytic Philosophy issue a CFP for the 22nd edition of the annual conference

Contemporary Philosophical Issues: Philosophy in the Social World to be held at the University of Rijeka, May 21st to 22nd 2020.

We welcome proposals for presentations ranging across the full range of issues in analytic philosophy, spanning all philosophical areas, including theoretical and practical philosophy as well as cognitive, empirical, neuro-scientific and meta approaches to philosophical concerns. We are interested in the latest developments in philosophical theories pertaining to what are traditionally considered 'big philosophical questions' and we aim to establish a point of contact for philosophers working in separate areas in order to jointly explore the power of philosophy to address human experience and the complexities of our everyday lives, social and political institutions, ethical interactions, creative and knowledge-seeking practices, culture and language.

Plenary speakers:

Dunja Jutronić (University of Maribor, University of Split)

Nenad Mišćević (University of Maribor, CEU Budapest)

Anna Christina Ribeiro (Texas Tech University)

We invite submissions for 30 minutes presentations, followed by 15 minutes of Q&A. If you are interested in presenting your work, please send the title and the abstract of max. 300 words by April, 15th 2020, to Martina Blečić at martina.blecic@gmail.com or mblecic@uniri.hr. Notification of acceptance will be sent out by April 30th. Unfortunately, we cannot cover for any travelling or accommodation, but there is no conference fee. We also invite postgraduate and doctorate students to present their works in the student session, with allocated time of 20 minutes. All the papers presented at the conference are eligible for publication in the Croatian Journal of Philosophy.

In addition to the sessions on general topics, we will host a session dedicated to the research project entitled Rationality: between Logically Ideal and Commonsensical in Everyday Reasoning, and a series of lectures dedicated to poetry, narrative and fiction.

Organizing committee: Iris Vidmar Jovanović (ividmar@ffri.hr), Nenad Smokrović (nenad@ffri.hr), Martina Blečić (mblecic@uniri.hr), Tomislav Čop (tcop1@uniri.hr).
