

UNIRI

The ThUMB 2022 Meeting on Functions in Biology and the Biomedical Sciences

Thursday September 8 – Room 401

12:00 – 13:30 Refreshments and light lunch

13:30 – 14:30 Fabian Hundertmark (Bielefeld University) “Dysfunctions, Dispositions, Defects and Disorders”

Coffee break

14:45 – 15:45 Katie Morrow (Bielefeld University) “The Relationship between Causal-Role Functions and Normativity in Ecology”

Coffee break

16:00 – 17:00 Harriet Fagerberg (King’s College London and Humboldt University) “Diseases as Domino Dysfunctions” (via ZOOM)

Friday September 9 – Room 401

10:00 – 11:00 Justin Garson (City University of New York) “A Representationalist Account of Goal Directedness”

Coffee break

11:15 – 12:15 Tyler Brunet (University of Exeter) “Constructive Neutral Evolution and Function: More Missing Terms in the Science of Form”

Coffee break

12:30 – 13:30 Zdenka Brzović and Predrag Šustar (University of Rijeka) “WE* Strikes Back: Recent Comments and Replies”

Lunch

16:00 – 18:00 Afternoon session – discussion and concluding remarks

The meeting is an outcome of the research project Theoretical Underpinnings of Molecular Biology (ThUMB) HRZZ-IP-2018-01-3378 sponsored by the Croatian Science Foundation and the project Classifications in Biology and Medicine (KUBIM) uniri-human-18-265 sponsored by the University of Rijeka